Total New York sales down but downtown Manhattan rallies

The 1st half of 2016 was characterized by a downturn in townhouse and small building sales volume and pricing. This can be attributed to various factors including the volatility in the stock market, lower Wall St. bonuses, the ongoing Brexit saga, the upcoming presidential election, and a decline in foreign buyers.

Comparing the 1 st half of 2016 to the same period in 2015, the number of transactions declined from 217 to 177, total sales dropped from $$ 2.1$ billion to $$ 1.4$ billion, the average price per foot slipped from $$ 1,530$ to $$ 1,409$, and the average sales price saw a reduction from $$ 9.7$ million to $$ 8.1$ million.

Looking at the market by neighborhood, the West Village and Chelsea saw a rise in average price per square foot ($1,541 in 2016 compared to $$ 1,434$ in 2015) as well as a rise in the average sale price ( $$ 12.1 \mathrm{M}$ in 2016 compared to $$ 10.9 \mathrm{M}$ in 2015). Greenwich Village also saw an up tick in average price per square foot ( $$ 2,593$ in 2016 compared to $$ 2,374$ in 2015) as well as a surge in average sale price ( $$ 14.4 \mathrm{M}$ in 2016 compared to $$ 9.7 \mathrm{M}$ in 2015 ).

Sales of note that occurred during the 1 st half of the year included 273 West 11 th Street for $$ 34.5 \mathrm{M}$ and $$ 2,644 / \mathrm{ft}$, and 27 East 79th Street for $$ 28 \mathrm{M}$ and a year to date high of $4,861/ft.

Looking forward, we see some signs of resiliency in the market as we enter the 2 nd half of the year with several high priced single-family listings in contract, and inventory remaining consistent with historical levels.

Upper East Side

| Total Sales Volume: $\$ 393,721,066$ | $\downarrow$ | $15 \%$ |
| :--- | :---: | :---: |
| Average Sales Price: $\$ 11,249,173$ | $\downarrow$ | $8 \%$ |
| Average Price / Sq.ft: $\$ 1,898$ | $\uparrow$ | $.2 \%$ |
| Number of Transactions: 37 | $\downarrow$ | $3 \%$ |

For Sellers

The Upper East Side continues to be one of the strongest townhouse markets in Manhattan - led by sales in the 70 's and followed by sales in the 60's. Looking at single family homes, those west of Park Avenue had the highest sales prices with an average sales price of $$ 16.8 \mathrm{M}$ and $2,479/Sq.ft.
For Buyers
The highest priced sale was 27 East 79th street, a 24 ft wide property which sold for $$ 28 \mathrm{M}$ and $$ 4,861 / \mathrm{Sq} . \mathrm{ft}$. this was also the highest priced sale per square foot in the neighborhood.

ooking Forward

With prices at an all time high in 2015, and 2016 off to a solid start, it will be interesting to see if the strength in the market for single family houses from $5-15M continues. Generally located east of Park Avenue, properties in this price range present a compelling value proposition and will continue to be highly sought after for heir close proximity to cultural institutions, schools and the midtown business districts.

| Average Price / Sq.ft $\$ 1,267$ | $\downarrow$ | $15 \%$ |
| Number of Transactions: 28 | $\uparrow$ | $17 \%$ |

For Sellers

Transaction volume held steady but the the average sales price and the average price/Sq.ft slid due to an absence of $10 \mathrm{M}+$ renovated single family sales Currently there are 48 townhouses on the market, half of which are asking at $\$ 10 \mathrm{M}+$.

For Buyers

The highest priced sale was 14 West 69th Street, 25 ft wide, $$ 12.25 \mathrm{M}, $ 1,220 / \mathrm{Sq}$.ft. The highest per square foot sale was 12 West 83 rd Street, 18.5 ft wide, $$ 9.99 \mathrm{M}$, $2,393/Sq.ft.
Looking Forward
Sales picked up from Q1 to Q2 with prices rising 6.5\% and PPSF 9.8\%. In addition two eight-figure homes are in contract pointing to a potential up tick in Q3/Q4.

For Sellers

The rise in sales prices has been in large part due to recent single-family transactions (most notably 327 East 51 st street, which sold for $$ 7.76 \mathrm{M}, $ 1,941 /$ Sq.ft). An influx of new construction single-family homes for sale in the area.
For Buyers
The highest priced sale was 248 East 49th St, 19 ft wide
$$ 10.35 \mathrm{M}, $ 1,078 /$ Sq.ft. The highest Price/Sq.ft sale was at 327 East 51 st Street, 19 ft wide, $$ 7.7 \mathrm{M}$,

$1,941/Sq.ft.

Looking Forward

Single-family home prices will likely continue to rise based on new market inventory and average prices per square foot

Chelsea

or Sellers

Demand for single-family homes remains strong with three end-user conversion projects under contract at an average of $$ 1,665$ PSF.

For Buyers

The highest priced sale was 251 West 14th Street, 25 ft wide, $$ 23 \mathrm{M}, $ 2,911 / \mathrm{Sq} . \mathrm{ft}$. This was also the highest Price/Sq.ft sale in the neighborhood

Looking Forward

Typical Greenwich/West Village buyers have shown more interest in Chelsea as better values exist. With three single-family conversion projects under contract, the neighborhood continues to thrive

Central Village

| Average Price / Sq.ft: $\$ 747$ | $\downarrow$ | $45 \%$ |
| Number of Transactions: 4 | $\downarrow$ | $43 \%$ |

For Sellers

Inventory remians extremely low. With two newly gut renovated single-family townhouses in contract at record prices (avg. $$ 26 \mathrm{~m}$ & $$ 3,199 \mathrm{PSF}$ ), future averages will rise and we may see more properties come to market

For Buyers

The highest priced sale was 126-128 East 13th Street, 50 ft wide, $$ 16.9 \mathrm{M}, $ 828 / \mathrm{Sq} . \mathrm{ft}$. The highest Price/Sq.ft sale was at 123 East 12 th Street, 49 ft wide, 16.9 M , $1,313/Sq.ft.
Looking Forward
Average sales prices and price per square foot values have continued to soar following the prices seen further west in Greenwich and West Village. Inventory will remain low given the lack of townhouse properties.

East Village

| Investment properties continue to dominate the East Village townhouse and small building market, as the rental market continues its rapid growth in value.  For Buyers | $3-5$ units | N/A |
| The highest priced sale was 126 East 13th Street, 50ft wide, $$ 16.9 \mathrm{M}, $ 1,313 / \mathrm{Sq} . \mathrm{ft}$. This was also the highest per square foot sale in the neighborhood. | 6-25 units  $1,772 PPSF | $5.9M |
| Looking Forward  As condominium sales continue to reach new heights (in some cases, north of $$ 2,500$ per square foot), we will see increased demand for luxury residential product. This will likely lead buyers to townhouses that can be delivered vacant because they will be able to customize a larger space at a lower Price/Sq.ft. | Mixed/ Commercial $1, 168 PPSF | $11.3M |

or Sellers

Transaction volume has slowed overall from 2015 (though not as much as in other NY neighborhoods), yet activity in the $$ 2 \mathrm{M}-$ 4.5 \mathrm{M}$ range has stayed healthy. Now is a great time to put a house in that price range on the market, but if your property is worth $$ 6 \mathrm{M}$ or more, you may want to wait until the Fall season to list your home For Buyers
The highest priced sale was 857 Carroll Street, 19 ft wide, $$ 4.9 \mathrm{M}, $ 1,132 / \mathrm{Sq} . \mathrm{ft}$. The highest Price/Sq.ft sale was at 64 Prospect Park West, 18 ft wide, $3.9 \mathrm{M}, $ 1,637 / \mathrm{Sq} . \mathrm{ft}$. Looking Forward
As general market conditions improve, this mansion market will regain traction.

Brooklyn Heights

|  | $\downarrow$ |  |

Number of Transactions: 10

For Sellers

Average numbers are skewed and appear lower on a Price/Sq.ft basis because the majority of first half sales have been commercial buildings, which tend to trade at lower Price/Sq.ft.
For Buyers
The highest priced sale was 50 Orange Street, 100ft wide, $$ 13.5 \mathrm{M}, $ 1,073 / \mathrm{Sq} . \mathrm{ft}$. The highest Price/Sq.ft sale was at 281 Henry Street, 17 ft wide, 7.2 M , $1,440/Sq.ft.
Looking Forward
Single-Family townhouses will continue to command the highest prices in Brooklyn Heights. As more recently renovated houses hit the market over the next few years, we will continue to see a rise in average prices

or Sellers

Average sales prices have increased but transaction volume has dropped. Houses priced close to the average make up a majority of sales, so far so if your property is worth between $$ 2.75 \mathrm{M}-$ 3.75 \mathrm{M}$, now is the time to sell. For Buyers
The highest priced sale was 308-312 West 113th Street, 50 ft wide, $$ 8 \mathrm{M}, $ 822 / \mathrm{Sq} . \mathrm{ft}$. The highest Price/Sq.ft sale was at 247 West 121 st Street, 18 ft wide, $$ 3 \mathrm{M}, $ 1,136 /$ Sq.ft.

Looking Forward

What we will see in the coming year or so will be a pricing adjustment which will enable more transactions.
